I will be staying in Madison for the coming semester and walking in the spring commencement ceremony. After, I will be starting in the summer at Medtronic as an Associate Strategic Sourcing Specialist in Minneapolis.

Big thank you to everyone I've met here, especially my supervisors Donnie and Ginger and my coworkers! I had the opportunity to grow my technical, communication, and business skills. I have been supported by great people along the way and had the best experience during my time here. Thank you!

I will be starting full-time as an associate at PwC (Chicago) as part of the Real Estate Tax Team in January. I hope to complete the CPA exams by spring, and I am planning to take a trip to Europe after finishing the CPA exams. I am excited to get my career started and will miss my time in Madison.

I greatly appreciate Emily Von Haden and April Cook. Both helped me out immensely in developing my Excel skills, knowledge of fund accounting and the gift process, and the different software that we use. With their help and time, I was able to develop confidence and skills that will be crucial as I begin my career.

In February I begin my volunteering in Asia for three weeks and then I plan to backpack through Thailand, Vietnam, and Hong Kong. Once I return, I will celebrate graduation in the Spring with friends. In July, I'll begin my full-time role at Capital One in Chicago as a Commercial Banking Analyst.

Working here has been an incredible head start. It gave me exposure to finance early on, which helped me build confidence working with money and financial concepts.

Beyond the professional growth, the community has been one of the best parts — I looked forward to coming into work and catching up with coworkers. As an underclassman, I always appreciated the advice and mentorship from upperclassmen and my managers. That supportive environment is a big reason why I stayed throughout my entire college career!

This is just the beginning of all the amazing things you're going to do
